

The Endo Educational
Organization of Canada

Resource Library: Endo What?

"Endo What is a groundbreaking, bi-partisan movement dedicated to educating and empowering people with endometriosis while informing health care providers and policymakers and holding decision makers accountable. We are patient-first, patient-led and do not accept funds from pharmaceutical companies." -Endo What?

We support this resource because EndoWhat focuses on educating everyone about endometriosis to stimulate greater awareness for proper treatment. Co-Founder Shannon Cohn successfully directed and produced "EndoWhat" a world-renowned film, which is must-watch for anyone seeking information about endometriosis. The EndoWhat organization has also developed the "Nurses Initiative" wherein you can purchase an endometriosis educational kit and it is sent to a random or chosen school nurse, counsellor or professional who would find it useful. You can find more information about EndoWhat on Facebook, Instagram, Twitter and the web.
