

The Endo Educational
Organization of Canada

Resource Library: Casey Berna

“Casey Berna, a social worker who has dedicated her career to working with endometriosis and infertility patients. She has spent time in private practice doing individual and group therapy with patients and also has worked with various endometriosis and infertility non-profits on leading advocacy initiatives.” -Casey Berna Website

We support this resource because Casey is an amazing advocate for endometriosis; always searching for the truth and standing up for patient’s well-being. Within her website you can find resources surrounding endometriosis, blog posts, support options and videos of her public speaking engagements! Casey is constantly advocating for improvement globally surrounding endometriosis and offers some intriguing insights surrounding pharma & governing institutions’ hand in endometriosis treatment. You can find Casey Berna on Instagram, Facebook and the web.

Link to Casey Berna’s Website:

<http://www.caseyberna.com>