

The Endo Educational
Organization of Canada

Resource Library: Endo Girls Blog

"Our mission [at the Endo Girls Blog] is to correct the dysfunctional perceptions of Endometriosis for all Endometriosis patients by providing facts, truths, and access to competent medical care, exposing in-competencies amongst OBGYN's and the medical community as a whole, and revealing pharmaceutical manipulation and exploitation of Endometriosis patients." - Endo Girls Blog Website

We support this resource because Kate & Laura are not only powerful EndoWarriors but operate a highly informative platform that always focuses on the well-being of endometriosis patients. Laura & Kate discuss, teach, share, and bust myths daily with their essential posts and blog. Be sure to check them out if you are interested in up-to-date information surrounding endometriosis, adenomyosis, hormones, pharma and so much more! Endo Girls Blog can be found on Facebook, Instagram and the web.

Link to Endo Girls Blog Website
<https://endogirlblog.com>